

|                                                                                   |                                               |                                                                                                                                          |                   |                  |
|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------------------|------------------|
|  | SISTEMA DI GESTIONEPER LA QUALITÀ | Indirizzo Trasporti e LogisticaIst. Tec. Aeronautico Statale"Arturo Ferrarin"Via Galermo, 17295123 Catania (CT) |                   |                  |
| Modulo                                                                            | MODELLO PROGRAMMA SVOLTO               |                                                                                                                                          | CodiceM PSV A | Pagina 1di 2 |

PROGRAMMA SVOLTO DI INGLESE

CLASSE 4E - A.S. 2020/2021

La prof.ssa MESSINA ELISABETTA MARIA

LIBRI DI TESTO UTILIZZATI: M. Hobbs - J.S. Keddl, Sure. Pre-intermediate, Helbling Languages; M. Vince – G. Cerulli – M. Muzzarelli – D. Morini, Get inside language. A1-B2, Macmillan; Liz Kilbey

| MODULO/UNIT             | GRAMMAR                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           | VOCABULARY                                                                                                               | FUNCTIONS                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         |
|-------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| MODULO 4UNITS 7, 8  | Present perfect (for, since, already, yet, just, so far, still): affirmative, interrogative and question formPresent perfect vs past simpleThe future (present continuous, be going to, will, present simple)Adjectives ending in -ed and -ingIndefinite pronounsPast perfect | Work activitiesAcademic subjectsApologisingOrdering food and drinkFeelingsWorkPersonal qualities | Talking about experiences and durationTalking about recent past eventsTalking about events continuing presentlyTalking about future plans, arrangements and intentionsTalking about people, places and thingsHow to apologiseHow to order food and drinks |
| MODULO 5UNITS 9, 10 | The passive form: continuous, perfect and modal passives; passive infinitivesDefining and non-defining relative clausesMulti-word verbsPrepositions of place and movement                                                                                                             | CrimeDates and historical periodsLand and air travelAnimals                                                  | Talking about facts and processesDefining and specifying                                                                                                                                                                                                                      |

Sono state inoltre trattati i seguenti argomenti durante le ore dedicate ai percorsi per le competenze trasversali e per l'orientamento:

1. The Chicago convention
2. ICAO and the freedoms of the air
3. Air traffic control service and Flight information service
4. Alerting service, SAR, ATC, FIC

|                                                                                   |                                               |  |                                                                                                                                          |                  |
|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------|--|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------|
|  | SISTEMA DI GESTIONEPER LA QUALITÀ |  | Indirizzo Trasporti e LogisticaIst. Tec. Aeronautico Statale"Arturo Ferrarin"Via Galermo, 17295123 Catania (CT) |                  |
| Modulo                                                                            | MODELLO PROGRAMMA SVOLTO               |  | CodiceM PSV A                                                                                                                        | Pagina 2di 2 |

5. Being an air traffic controller
6. Safety in aviation communication
7. at the airport
8. Phraseology in aeronautic
9. skills and talents of an air traffic controller
10. the control tower

Catania, lì 25/05/2021

IL DOCENTE
prof./ssa ELISABETTA MARIA MESSINA